DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/5/08 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 2 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 2, the phrase "the probe body" lacks antecedent basis. In claim 16, it is unclear what "it" refers to.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3768

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Davison et al (US 5,324,299).

Davison et al disclose an ultrasonic scalpel blade 12, wherein an ultrasonic transducer emits ultrasonic radiation to cause the blade to vibrate for improved coagulation. Furthermore, the transducer 20 is attached to scalpel by screw 15, making the scalpel movable with respect to the transducer (see figure 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-12 and 15-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Farin et al (US 5,776,092) in view of Lafon et al (US 6,379,320).

Farin et al disclose a multifunctional surgical instrument for laparoscopic use including an ultrasonic applicator 2 that is used for ultrasonically fragmenting and aspirating tissue for permitting a direct engagement of a desired tissue region for coagulation. The instrument also includes a connector 13 for suction that helps keep the probe in place on an organ and a connector 14 for rinsing, thus also acting as a cooling and coupling fluid circuit. Furthermore, there is no type of membrane on either the transducer or the entire instrument (col 3, line 61-col 4, line 37).

Farin et al disclose an ultrasonic transducer, but does not detail whether it is a planar transducer. However, Lafon et al specifically teach of an ultrasonic planar transducer 8 (see figure 1). It would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to modify Farin et al, as taught by Lafon et al, because Farin et al teach using ultrasonic transducer and Lafon et al specifically describe one such type of ultrasonic transducer.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
